As the members of the class of '70 take a stroll down memory lane, the path leading down 1967-68 brings into view many memorable experiences.

The first item was Homecoming. One of the sophomore floats was lucky enough to place third, which was really pretty good. Things steadily progressed. The football season ended, report cards were issued for the first time, Thanksgiving vacation came and went all too quickly, then Christmas came from just around the corner. One of the sophomore's homeroom Christmas decorated door placed first and another one also obtained a prize.

The New Year brought, to the dismay of many, semester tests waiting to be taken when school resumed. Events managed to come and go. Towards the last of January the sophomore class chose the style of their class rings. The next important happening was the Spring Dance. Easter vacation came hopping up to give us a small break. Other than the excitement of the upper classmen about the Prom during April, nothing really interesting happened until school was out. And of course, almost everyone was pretty much in favor of that.

Naturally while the year was passing there were several other activities in progress. Many were involved in extra-curricular activities such as music, speech, and band. Usually when not working in these activities, we tackled school work. Let's see—there was Geometry, English II and Biology for many. Biology was very interesting!? There were diagrams to make and how could anyone ever forget the dissections of such lovely creatures as frogs, earthworms, and fish. English proved to be another beauty. The speeches and themes were always looked forward to, of course, and there was the unforgettable Shakespeare and JULIUS CAESAR. Many appreciated the beautifully worked proofs that needed to be performed in Geometry. But all in all the sophomores did a pretty good job. There was always the thought of becoming upperclassmen next year to keep everyone going.

One other thing that the sophomores considered of vital importance was obtaining their drivers licenses. Of course there were a few crumpled bumpers but not enough to matter.

On the whole the sophomores of '67-'68 did a real fine job and it's very probable that they will be a great group of mighty juniors next year.

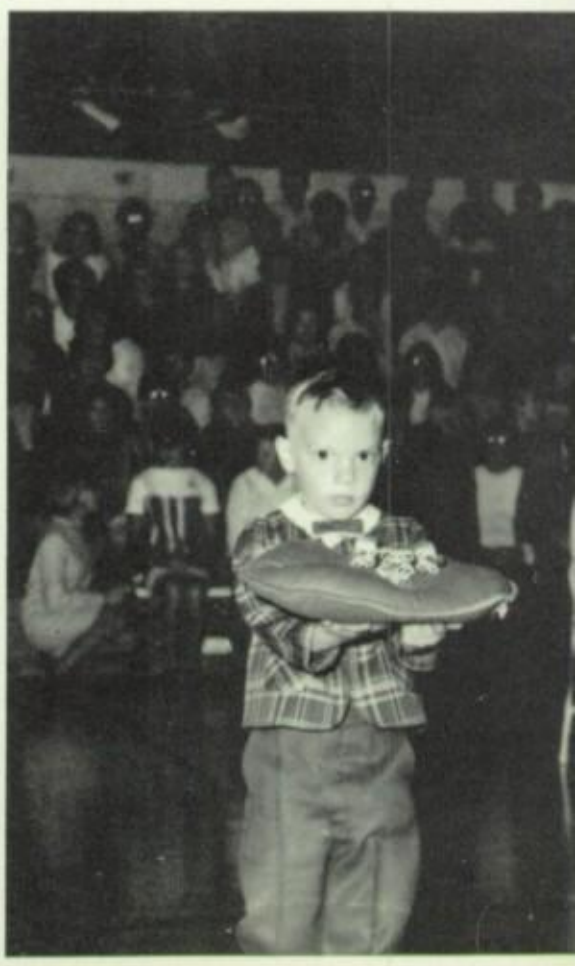
ACTIVITIES



Homecoming '67 Was a Blazing Success

Homecoming began with our laborious efforts at floatbuilding. The next event was the crowning of Queen Monica Clow on Thursday morning by last year's queen, Delores Olsen before the entire student body. Thursday night the student body led by the band and the cheerleaders, marched from the school to Gillette Park, where the bonfire was presided over by Queen Monica and her attendants. The annual parade was led by several of the past queens, which was a new feature this year. Despite rain, the game was a great success. The dance which followed was well attended and music was provided by the Korners of Time.

Celebrity line-up of speakers and queens at the bonfire.

WET AND WILD, we won our homecoming game–13 to 7.

The large crowd snakedanced to the swimming pool parking lot where the bonfire was held.

Loud and exciting, "The Korners of Time," provided entertainment for the evening.

The dance was a line of success.

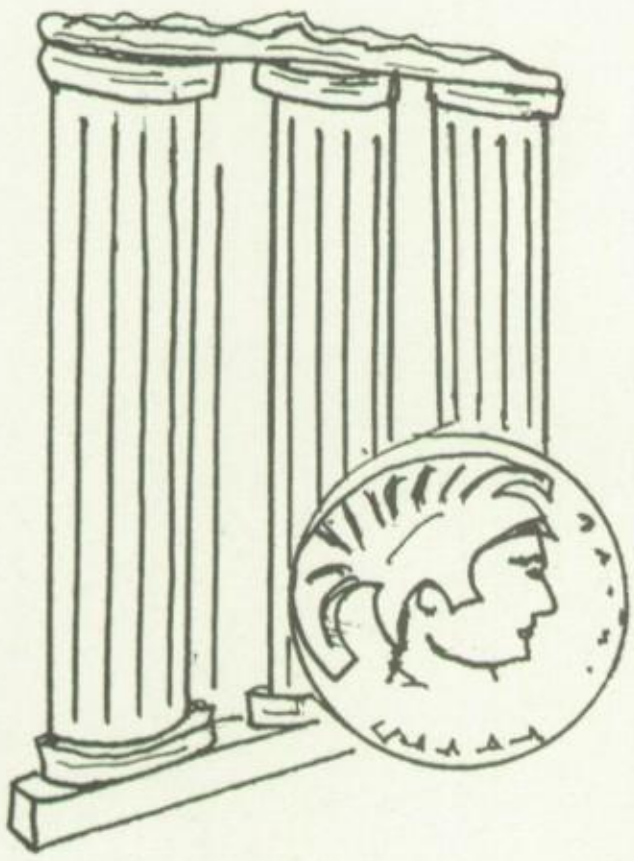
The Grand March. Music by the Kavaliers.



ROMAN HOLIDAY

"We need 150 yards of vines, about twelve of those giant pillars, a 40 foot mural, and all the card tables we can get."

With these instructions the juniors set out to make the 1968 prom the most fabulously decorated one possible. Colors of purple, gold, and white gave the gym a royal Roman effect. Streamers were draped from the scoreboard over the seating area to create a ceiling, and the alcove was covered with a mural which served as a background for a smaller seating area surrounded by a stone wall.

A beautiful gym, a good band, new clothes, and an all-round good time.

Refreshments at the chariot.

An ivy-covered fountain decorated the seating area.

After the Grand March, John Geringer was crowned King by freshman attendant Jane Meloy. He in turn placed a lovely diamond tiara on the head of Queen Nancy Perrin. A happy couple led the first dance.

Debate Squad

This year twelve boys debated the topic (nation-wide), "Resolved that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures." They were John Wiemers, senior; Greg Ellerbroek, Brant Godfrey, and Mike Sturgeon, juniors; Larry Russel, Mike Quinn, Jim Harten, Mike Crist, Marty Torrey, Lowell Steele, and Roger Mongan, sophomores; and Paul Goldhorn, freshman. Coaches were Miss Oksol and Mr. Skinner.

The team traveled to eight tournaments during the October to March season, emerging with approximately a 50-50 record. They debated at Worthington, Minnesota, Sioux City, Cherokee, University of South Dakota at Vermillion, Sheldon, Hartley, and Iowa State University. The Vermillion and Ames trips were two day affairs. On December 16 they hosted their own tournament, the Cherokee Invitational, for forty teams from the area.

Brant Godfrey and John Weimers did especially well at ISU, where they won four out of six rounds. At USD, Larry Russel and Mike Quinn went undefeated in four rounds of debate, and Greg Ellerbroek won a superior rating in both debate and discussion.

Ellerbroek and Godfrey were named by their coaches as the outstanding two-man team for 1967-68.

All the debaters became members of the National Forensic League, with Ellerbroek and Godfrey achieving the degree of excellence.

CHEROKEE INVITATIONAL: Linda Tharpe, 2ND place–Dramatic; Bill Ryan, 3RD place–Oratory; Shelley Lowenberg, 3RD place–Poetry; Marla Cedar–3RD place–Prose.

Speech Squad

The Speech Squad, with 21 members, had another successful year under the guidance of coach Mrs. Miller. The squad attended three meets. The first was a practice meet at the University of South Dakota. The second was the Paullina Invitational, giving students their first real competition and certificates. Under the direction of Myra Rasmussen and Shelley Lowenberg, Washington hosted the Cherokee Invitational which served as the elimination meet for District. First, second, and third place winners were recognized in each division.

From 14 entries at District, held at Marcus, Cherokee had 12 entries advance to State with I ratings. They were:

Bill Ryan . . . . .Oratory
Linda Tharpe. . .Dramatic
Jane Peck . . . . .Dramatic
Cathy Fuchs . . .Storytelling
Bill Ryan. . . . . .After Dinner Speaking
Shannon Reed . . . .Radio Speaking
Jack Chesnutt . . . .Radio Speaking
Janis Peck . . . . . .Storytelling
Shelley Lowenberg . . .Poetry
Cindy Lear. . . . . .Poetry
Jane Peck . . . . . .Poetry
Shelley Bahrke . . . . . .Prose

Six students received I (superior) ratings at the State Contest at Spencer. These students received state medals and school speech letters. (* indicates 3 I's from possible 3.) They were Shelley Bahrke, Shannon Reed*, Bill Ryan, Shelley Lowenberg*, Cindy Lear, and Jane Peck.

One Act Play & Play Reading

Under the superior direction of Mr. Conley the one-act play THE DIARY OF ADAM AND EVE with Kathy Meloy, Don Woods, and Tom Green; and the playreading A TALE OF CHELM with Jack Chesnutt, Jane McCauley, Don Woods, Kathy Meloy, Tom Green, and Curt Lack, gained the highest recognition possible in high school dramatics.

The play reading received a I rating at District, and straight I's at State, being named one of two outstanding play readings of the entire meet.

The one-act, the most successful and memorable in Cherokee's history, received the only superior certificate given at the University of South Dakota. It received straight I's at both District and at State, where it received a I+, the highest rating possible. It was named outstanding play of the contest; and Kathy Meloy and Don Woods were recognized as outstanding actress and actor on the state honor roll as well as at the contest.

Student Council at WHS ended another successful year under the direction of it's officers: President John Weimers, Vice-President Beth Lack, Secretary-Treasurer Jane McCauley, and Faculty Advisor Mr. Moe.

The school year started off with Homecoming festivities including a dance and the Queen Coronation. Next they helped sponsor UNICEF for the grade school youngsters. Then the annual Spring Dance came and went. Throughout the year several assembly programs were presented.

This year there were three student council members elected to district offices. They were Denise Haskin, cabinet; Curt Lack, president; and Jon Hantsbarger. The student body elections for 1968 were very successful, having so many candidates we had to hold a primary election to eliminate some. Nancy Ehrich was elected student body president, Jon Hantsbarger, vice-president; and Mark Cunningham, secretary-treasurer.

All in all it was a very good year, 1967-68, at WHS.

The Washington High School Band, under the leadership of Mr. Robert Stephenson is improving every year. Membership is increasing at a very high rate, and it's facilities are rapidly being outgrown, nevertheless the progress is obvious. The band presented three concerts this year. Two of these were Pop Concerts where the Twirler Corps sold cookies and beverages to the audience seated at card tables.

The Stage Band was an integral part of band activities. It played at many community functions and "toured" the Washta and Quimby as accompaniment to a Pompon routine. They also acquired a uniform of tan blazers and black turtlenecks.

Leanne Johnson led her Pompon corps, the Starlights, through a busy year. In addition to marching with the band at football games and in parades, the girls gave several routines at basketball game.

One of the contest groups was the Flute Quartet, Rosemary Schueder, Kathleen Schueder, Enola Grauburg, and Shelley Lowenberg.

Faithfully backing the football and basketball teams were Kathy Meloy, Linda Hill, Jody Miller, Patty Graves, and Nancy Perrin. The cheerleaders planned the pep meetings to encourage the school spirit.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were: Shelley Ladwig, Cindi Rebarcak, Jane Meloy, and Joan Rutherford.

Cheerleaders

This year a new cheerleading squad was formed. The alternates elected last spring became our wrestling cheerleaders. They and the basketball cheerleaders had a successful year leading new chants and cheers. Jody Miller, the cute mascot added a note of humor to the games while cheering with the basketball cheerleaders.
